A piece of cardboard makes a square box with sides $\frac{1}{4}$ the original length. For example, a 12 inch long piece of cardboard will make a 3" x 3" box. The width of the cardboard forms the height, base, and top of the box. For example, if you want to make a 3" x 3" box out of a 12" x 9" piece of cardboard, you'll use 3" of the width to form the base and top, and the remaining 6" will form the height of the box.

The first time I made this, the flimsy cardboard parts got kind of wily during assembly. The trick is to tape each corner of the tray shelves and apply a bead of glue on the inside (to "pin" it). The other trick is to set the overall form first - by attaching bottom shelf, then top shelf...then infill with middle shelves.
